

FIGHTING IN FRANCE REACHES SAVAGE PITCH; FRESH ALLIED THRUST LEADS TO CAPTURE OF TOWN OF CAUMONT

Capture of Town 20 Miles Inland Is Followed by Major German Counter-Attack — British Penetrate Into Villers-Bocage — Bitter Street Fighting in Several Centers, with Allied Forces Holding Firm.

By Kingsbury Smith
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

Supreme Headquarters, Allied
Expeditionary Force, June 14 — Fighting in France reached a new pitch of savage intensity today
when a fresh Allied thrust which led to the capture of Caumont 20 miles inland was followed by a major German counter-attack.

Front dispatches also disclosed
a British penetration into Villers-Bocage, five miles east and slightly south of Caumont.

The Nazis struck in fury at Montebour, Carentan and Caen and bitter street fighting resulted, with American, British and Canadian troops holding firm.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's communiqué announcing seizure of Caumont and a penetration 20 miles inland from the channel coast disclosed a slashing Allied drive to the south that threatens to split enemy forces deployed between Caen and the rail center of St. Lo, on the Cherbourg peninsula.

The German agency DNB quoted a military spokesman as saying both the German and Allied commanders in Normandy are reinforcing their forces "for gigantic battles that are imminent."

Winner of American Legion Medal Honored

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, June 14 —
William Pasqualone was the recipient of the American Legion medal award at the graduation exercises at St. Charles' parochial school on Sunday. After graduation a dinner was given in his honor by his mother, Mrs. Nicholas Pasqual-one, Sr., at her home.

Those attending: Mr. and Mrs.
James Pone and daughter Angelina,
Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Marino, Sr., and children, Marie and Anthony,
Jr., Nicholas Pasqualone, Sr., Leon Pasqualone, Donald Pasqualone
and Nicholas Pasqualone, Jr.

William received gifts.

51ST ANNIVERSARY

ANDALUSIA, June 14 — Mrs. Samuel H. Fleming served as hostess on Saturday at an affair in Concord Presbyterian Church, Concord, Clarion County, marking the 51st wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Cooper, of Concord. The celebrants were attended by their maid of honor and best man of over half a century ago, Mrs. S. P. Snyder, of West
Palm Beach, Fla., a sister of Mrs.
Cooper; and Dr. H. B. McGarrath, of Fairbank. There were 124 gathered for the dinner and program including the Coopers' two daughters and son.

One Morrisville Man Is Missing; Another Wounded

MORRISVILLE, June 14 — One young Morrisville man is missing in action and another resident here is seriously wounded in Italy, according to messages sent their families.

The missing soldier is PFC Le-Roy Burns, 25, who is reported missing in Italy. The mother of the young man is Mrs. Mary Burns, of Greco street. PFC Burns had been overseas since December.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pursell,
W. Bridge street, have been advised that their son, Lt. Robert Pursell, 22, pilot in the air corps, is seriously wounded in Italy. Lt. Pursell entered the army over a year ago, and had been overseas approximately three months.

HERE AND THERE IN BUCKS COUNTY TOWNS

Activities of Interest To All In The Various Communities

GLEANED BY SCRIBES

Between 250 and 300 persons attended a sale of real estate and personal property at the home of Dr.
Chester A. Helsel, near Chalfont, and good prices were received for the real estate and the personal property.

This property, before it was purchased about 21 years ago by Dr.
Helsel, belonged to the late William Swartley. The dwelling and about 20 acres of land were purchased by Paul Horn, of this place, for $9,000, and another tract of about 30 acres was bought by Frank Moll, a neighbor, for $3,000.
About five acres of frontage on the property were reserved by Dr. Helsel, who recently purchased another property at Ambler.

The promotion of 1st Lt. Clark J.
Hawes, to the rank of captain has been announced by Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, commanding general of the U. S. Army Eighth Air Force.
Captain Hawes, of Doylestown, is a photo pilot at this aerial reconnaissance station in England. The aerial pictures he takes of enemy military, maritime and industrial installations provide the information that sends the Allied bombers across the English channel with their cargoes of powerful explosives.

Men on the battlefields may face
deadly bullets, but PFC Charles Petri, of Sellersville, knows an outfit, the only reconstruction company of its kind in the United States, that faces poisonous snakes
daily and nightly without fear.

Pvt. Petri, who is home for his first furlough in a year, is stationed at Camp Claiborne, La. In the medical field service, Pvt. Petri took a regular course in medical training, but his studies of giving shots in the arm for diseases lasted only one day, and after that he was put to work to help "shoot" 600
men.

He has helped to catch and kill the most dangerous snake in the United States, the deadly coral snake, which has such a strong poison that it paralyzes the nerves in 15 minutes and causes death. He has killed hundreds of water moccasins, also poisonous, with his machine in the swamps of Louisiana,
as well as the death-dealing rattler.

Benjamin Palmer paid his tailor,
in 1789, four shillings for a great-
coat and six shillings for breeches.
For mending Palmer's wardrobe—
which took four days' work—the tailor charged an additional 16
shillings.

The kind of silk shawls that John Jacob Astor sold ran high in 1801.
For fourteen of them, William Laight received a bill for $444.

Funerals cost money, even in that remote era. A charge of $28.53 was made against the government for palbearers, ribbon
and crepe, in 1800, for a "funeral"
in memory of George Washington.

It was paid—promptly.

The picture has a brighter side, however. For instance, you could buy a gallon of Madeira in 1799 for $5; a gallon of rum in 1828 for 27 cents and a gallon of uncut whisky
in 1844 for $3.

To Raise Funds To Aid Clubmobile Operation

LANGHORNE, June 14 — A bake sale is planned for Saturday, June 24th, on the lawn of the American Legion home, Bellevue avenue. The hours are from 10.30 a. m. to 2.30
p. m., and will benefit the fund beneficial raised to care for expenses of the club-mobiles operated by the American Legion Auxiliary at the front lines of the battle zones.

Mrs. Frank Buckley will be in charge. Members are asked for donations of home-baked items or canned goods.

FOREFATHERS ALSO GROANED OF TAXES

Were Problem in Early Days
Just As They Are
At Present

EXPENSIVE ITEMS

By Jeanette Smits
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, June 10 — (INS) —
If it's any consolation to groaning payers of taxes and high living costs in New York City, their forefathers paid plenty, too.

An exhibit of living costs, including 200 bills paid by New Yorkers from 1710 to the present time, is on display at the Museum of the City of New York.

The commodities range from a pair of socks for a corpse to a
"quit-rent" settlement of Mrs. Martha Heathcote, who once owned half of wealthy Westchester County.

In 1736, Mrs. Heathcote paid taxes of nine pence, nine shillings (now around $41) to "His Majesty's collector," Archibald Kennedy.

The bill for the corpse's socks was 25 cents. The socks belonged to one F. Lewis, who died after a stay of four and a half days at the Western Hotel, in downtown New York, in 1847. Other bills against his estate included $6.75 for board and $2.71 for washing.

That tax headaches didn't originate in the last few years is shown by the record of a levy against the income of Augusta Leden, in 1886.
In that year, Augusta paid five per cent on $4,400 and 10 per cent on $2,162—a total of $436.20.

During the period between 1826
to '72, taxes on ownership of a billiard table would have amounted to $10, with $6 for a pianoforte (piano to you!), and $2 for a gold watch.

Food bills in 1770 probably were considered high, in those days. A hundredweight of lamb sold for three shillings, and a firkin (72 pounds)
of butter cost $23.50.

Benjamin Palmer paid his tailor,
in 1789, four shillings for a great-
coat and six shillings for breeches.
For mending Palmer's wardrobe—
which took four days' work—the
tailor charged an additional 16
shillings.

Bible School Rally To Be Conducted Tonight

A Daily Vacation Bible School
rally will be conducted in Calvary
Baptist Church this evening at 7.30 o'clock. Buses will provide transportation, leaving Bristol Terrace
and Croydon at seven o'clock.

The program will include: Singing of Gospel choruses; plans for the Bible school outlined; flannel-graph lesson by Mrs. William Painter; social in basement of church following the service, with a treat for the girls and boys.

The Bible school will be conducted for two weeks, from June 19th to 30th, the school being for children aged five years and over.

3 DISTRICTS FACE TEACHER TURNOVER

Number of Unfilled Vacancies in County Reaches
Total of 54

NEW TEACHERS FEW

Three Bucks County school districts face a turnover of 50% of their teachers, as the number of unfilled vacancies in Bucks county has reached a total of 54, according to reports received by the county superintendent's office. The resignations of 18 teachers were received by various districts in the county during the past week. Most of the unfilled positions are in rural areas where it is difficult to secure replacements. The supply of new graduates available for teaching in Bucks County is the lowest it has been for 20 years.

Most of the beginners are receiving salaries in urban centers which exceeded those paid to experienced teachers in Bucks County.

Firemen Answer Two False Alarms

Firemen last night answered an alarm struck from box 38, Farragut avenue and McKinley street. The alarm was received at about 11.30 and apparently was turned in by someone who saw what they thought was a fire at Plant 1 of Fleetings. Upon investigation it was found that refuse was being burned in the yard of the plant.

The first alarm was sounded by the siren of Bristol Volunteer Fire Co., No. 6, and when the members of this company with apparatus arrived at the gate of the plant, admittance was refused. This company returned to its quarters.

Then when the general alarm was sounded the other companies responded and they also were refused admittance until Fire Chief Hagerman arrived. Their services were not required.

At about 8.40 last evening a false alarm was received from Jefferson avenue and Mansion street.

Two More Babies Given Special Certificates

Yesterday two Bristol babies received war bonds as gifts, along with the Walt Disney certificates
designed especially for babies, having on them pictures of all the charming Walt Disney characters.
The two babies who received the bonds in the Fifth War Loan Drive are Francis Profy, Mill street, certificate presented by his grandfather, Thomas Profy; and Frank Kohn, Wood street, from his grandfather, William Kohn.

GIRL IS BORN

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barnes, of Inlet street, this morning, in Harriman Hospital.

TWINS FOR KURKOS

Twin boys were born to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kurko, of Edgely, last night, in Harriman Hospital.

FLAG DAY

The American's Creed

William Tyler Page

I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed;
a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality,
justice, and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it; to support its constitution; to obey its laws;
to respect its flag; and to defend it against all enemies.

Hulmeville Woman Is Found Dead in Bed

HULMEVILLE, June 14 — Going to the bedroom of her daughter, Mrs. Sallie Marcinek, yesterday morning, Mrs. Anthony Marcinek discovered that Mrs. Marcinek had died during the night.

Cause of the death of the 40-year-old woman is undetermined as yet.
She had been visiting out-of-town
during the week-end, returning home on Monday. Complaining that she did not feel well, Mrs. Marcinek retired early, Monday evening. It was the opinion of physicians that death had occurred shortly after midnight.

The deceased was the wife of
Pvt. Joseph Marcinek, who is stationed with the U. S. Army in Italy.
She is also survived by two daughters, Mrs. Narcissus Smith, Mil-ville, N. J.; Mrs. Elwood King, Jr., of Arizona. The latter plans to return east by plane to attend the rites.

Other survivors are: her parents,
Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Marcinek, Hulmeville; two sisters and three brothers, Mrs. Edward Chamberlain, Mrs. John Chrzanoski, Anthony Marcinek, England; and Andrew Marcinek, S. I. C., who is stationed in Philadelphia.

The mass will be said in St.
Michael's Church, Torresdale, on Saturday morning, at 10 o'clock, with burial in St. Dominick's Cemtery, Holmesburg. Friends may call Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Marcinek's parents, here.

DIST ATTORNEY BIESTER SPEAKS TO ROTARIANS

Bensalem Club Informed of Activities of That County Office

E. VANSANT PRESIDES

ANDALUSIA, June 14 — Edward
G. Biester, district attorney of Bucks County, was presented to members of Bensalem Rotary Club
last evening at their dinner meeting in King Hall. Elmer Vansant
was the presiding officer.

Mr. Biester traced the history of a typical case of crime, from the time the act is committed, through the arrest, to court procedure, and showed how the office of the district attorney enters the case and that office's function.

The matter of juvenile delinquency was given considerable attention by the speaker who told that last year there were more juvenile crime cases in Bucks County.

Objects to Debate on DeGaulle at Present Time

London — Prime Minister Winston Churchill told the House of Commons today that he objected to any debate at present concerning Gen.
Charles De Gaulle, head of the French Committee of National Liberation, who wants that body recognized officially as the provisional government of France.

"I must advise the House most seriously that debate on this subject matter would have a very great danger," Churchill said.

"This is not because we are not prepared to discuss the situation in all details if need be," the Prime Minister continued, adding that results of such a discussion might very well emphasize differences which may exist with the F. C. N. L. "Formal debate on De Gaulle," he said, "might well be a great comfort to the enemy."

German Military Installations Heavily Bombarded

London — Thousands of U. S. heavy, medium and light bombers bombarded German military installations, airfields, communications and industrial targets in the Reich, France and Belgium today to follow up crippling night blows against the Nazis in both France and Germany.

Western and southern Germany were battered at night in two-way assaults from Britain and Italy highlighted by the first night attack against Munich by Mediterranean based planes. The night strike against railway objectives in Munich was the second successive blow which followed by only a few hours a heavy bomber assault by daylight yesterday.

START TODAY FOR INFORMATION FOR MILITARY BALLOTS

Air-Raid Wardens Will Make Canvass in Bristol
Borough

MUST LIVE IN STATE

List the Information Which Is To Be Requested By Canvassers

Starting today, air-raid wardens, auxiliary police, and other members of the Council of Defense groups, supplemented with volunteers, will get under way on the canvass for military ballot information.

In Bristol, John E. Healey, chief air-raid warden, who has been named chief of the Bristol zone for the military ballot information solicitation, states that the work will be done by air-raid wardens, starting this evening, and will continue for two weeks or through June 28th.
The house-to-house canvass will proceed under the direction of the following:

First ward, Harold F. Hunter, 117
Mulberry street, second ward, Edward C. Dougherty, 920 Radcliffe street; third ward, John Fisher, Wear Apartments, Bath and Backley streets; fourth ward, Donalds
Roche, 625 Pond street; fifth ward,
Joseph McClain, Chestnut street,
sixth ward, H. Wesley Spencer, 246
West Circle.

When the canvassers visit the houses they will have with them
white cards on which certain information will be requested. (Elsewhere in these columns appears a copy of the card in condensed form).
The canvassers will also have with them a pink card which they will leave with the individual furnishing the information, so that if at any time in the future there is a change in the military address this information can be given on the pink card and forwarded to the Bucks County Board of Election in Doylestown.

The military ballot information is required in order to procure the correct address of those members of the armed forces to whom ballots should be sent and, at the same time, to get the information required to permit those persons to vote
who have not previously registered.
Provision was made for the canvass
through an act of the Legislature passed at a special session this Spring.

NEW HOPES AND OLD FEARS

Interest in the invasion of Europe has all but blinded some persons to operations in other theaters of war. As an antidote to great hopes for a rapid conclusion of the war against Germany, it is only necessary to look to China, where again a strong Japanese army is fighting for Changsha, key of Hunan Province. Before this appears in print Changsha may have fallen.

This is the third time in six years that the Japs have tried to take the city. This time they may be successful—and continue into the Rice Bowl upon which the Chinese depend for much of their food. Here is a situation to cause the Allies grave concern.

If actual front conditions are considered, things are much better in India and Burma. The Japs at Kohima are on the run, and Allied troops have made advances at Imphal. Yet even here hopes of annihilating a large part of the enemy forces are dwindling.

The monsoon is hampering Allied operations, and although the Myitkyina airfield fell to General Stilwell weeks ago, the Nipponese holding the city show unexpected resistance.

There is one factor which undoubtedly will encourage the Chinese to keep on fighting no matter what the odds. After seven years of the unequal struggle in China things for the moment look bad, but surely the Chinese can glimpse deliverance over the horizon.

THREE PHASES

The first phase of Allied invasion of France has been accomplished. This first phase was described by General Eisenhower's headquarters as "the securing of a foothold and the defeating of local German reserves."

The Allied Armies of Liberation may momentarily end the second phase, the task of defeating German "tactical reserves." Then will follow the third phase, described in the headquarters statement as the job of crushing "strategic reserves"—massing for a desperate and ferocious counter-offensive.

It sounds simple, almost prosaic, in the military language of that brief comment from General Eisenhower's headquarters. But the grim meaning was made somewhat clearer when Secretary of War Stimson said:

"We must look for the full fury of savage counter-attacks in force at any early moment."

"It would be folly to believe that the period of counter-attack will be short. Conditions will be changing from day to day, and it will be to our own good to avoid excesses of optimism or pessimism."

Earnest study of Secretary Stimson's words is commended both to the impatient optimists who are looking for Germany "to crack any day, now," and to the hand-wringing pessimists of the "Isn't it awful?" school.

If citizens hollering about taxes, tried relaxing to get their money's worth, who would do the work?

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

dual affair. On one side there will be the President, supposedly living on a plane high above politics and a candidate only because of his sense of duty to the country and the world. The effort will be to justify his attempt to stay in the White House by insisting upon his indispensability not only for winning the war but also for making the peace.

AND Mr. Roosevelt, himself, will follow the line of his last campaign. With Olympian detachment he will avoid all discussion of politics but in his role of Commander in Chief, he is expected to take a few "trips of inspection" as he did before and, perhaps, make a dramatic visit to England if the invasion is going well. And, all through, he will ignore his opponent—replying to no challenge and never mentioning Mr. Dewey's name. That was what he did to Mr. Willkie in 1940. He treated him with complete contempt, assigned his subordinates to answer his charges and personally pretended he did not know he was living. Mr. Willkie could not prevent him from getting away with that and Mr. Roosevelt greatly enjoyed doing it.

THERE isn't the slightest doubt that he will try to repeat that act with Governor Dewey, but there is a good deal of doubt that it will go over as well. The certain thing, however, is that he will avoid and evade all discussion of domestic issues, pose as having neither time nor inclination to consider politics and try to concentrate public attention on the war and peace problems. And, while the President holds to this noble and aloof attitude, the real managers of the fourth-term campaign, chief of whom is the CIO, will operate on very different lines. The objectives of the CIO management, ably supported by the left-wing press and publicists, are two: (1) to build Mr. Roosevelt up; (2) to tear Mr. Dewey down. So far as the first is concerned, the effort will be to credit the President with single-handedly winning the war; to laud his pre-war record and, by endowing him with all virtue and wisdom, impress the people with the notion that it would be calamitous to elect anyone else President. The extraordinary publicity facilities of the CIO-Administration combination are well fitted for this job.

CONCERNING the business of tearing Governor Dewey down, the fourth-term journalists are hard at it now. One set of these savagely attacks him as insincere and untrustworthy. They alleged that he has no convictions and try to stir class and racial feeling against him. The effort of the other set is to belittle Governor Dewey personally—for example, by referring to him as "Little Tom," or "the little Governor" or "the Dream Boy"—or by smart-alec cracks about his having to sit on two telephone books to see over a table. This is extremely cheap stuff, but it is illuminating.

FOR ONE thing, it is indicative of the caliber of the men upon whom Mr. Roosevelt depends for political support. For another, it shows that very little will be left undone by the practical fellows who have a vital personal stake in keeping Mr. Roosevelt in. In the third place, it presents a sharp contrast to Mr. Roosevelt's personal pose of being far removed from politics and not knowing the name of the man running against him. In brief, while the President takes his position on the highest plane, his "close friends" are playing politics from the lowest. Under the circumstances, it is advantageous to Governor Dewey to have this advance notice of his nomination and thus be able to see through this dual strategy of the fourth-termers. It may be that he will be able to find an effective answer to both the high and the low plane activities. It ought not to be too hard to find. For the activities on both planes are essentially phony.

their home last evening, welcoming members and friends of the congregation of Neshaminy Methodist Church. During the evening, William Weber, of Mont Clare, Pa., showed natural color slides on the lawn of the residence.

There were 24 members of the Ladies' Auxiliary who met in William Penn Fire Co. station on Monday evening, with Miss Margaret Perry presiding. Hostesses were Mrs. Elwood King, Sr., and Mrs. Frank Orlovski. Games were followed by refreshments. Members plan to conduct sessions during July and August this year. It was announced that those entitled to participate in the benefits of the outing fund take suggestions to the July session. All members of this group are asked to have payments up to date by the next meeting in order to participate in the outing. The hostesses named for July are Mrs. James Tracy and Mrs. Charles Thorpe, Sr.

Miss Verna Brunner had her tonsils removed on Friday at the Women's Homeopathic Hospital, Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gross and family, of Philadelphia, are occupying their summer home on Water street.

A recent visit was paid by Miss Jean Phipps to Miss Marie Dilworth, of Media.

A week-end visitor of Mrs. Harry P. Gill was her mother, Mrs. P. W. Valentine, of Brooklyn, N. Y. Miss Helen E. Gill, Philadelphia, spent Sunday with her mother, here. Recent visits were paid by Mrs. Gill and Miss Isabel Gill to Mrs. John Abrams and Mrs. Annie Soby, Edgely.

ty than adult cases. He stated that from his observation and analysis it is his opinion that most juvenile cases are the result of parental delinquency—so many mothers being employed. The breaking up of family life through separation and divorce also adds to the number of cases, he stated; and many bad situations are induced by hectic industrial conditions at present. A number of cases were cited by the speaker.

The Rev. Arthur F. Gibson, of Edgington, introduced as his guest at the dinner meeting, the Rev. N. Herbert Caley, Langhorne, dean of the Episcopal Convocation of Germantown.

The final session for the directors for the year was also held.

Seek Information Starting Today for Military Ballots

Canvassers will call at every home, and if there is anyone living there who is in the armed services or other branches of war activity as listed below, the necessary answers to the questions on the cards as shown in the accompanying illustration, should be given by some member of the family.

No other information will be asked for and none should be given. The canvasser will have his credentials which he will display to the person giving the information.

There will be no other way in which an absentee voter in the armed forces may obtain a ballot.

The qualifications for voting by military ballot are:

The elector must have been born on or before November 8, 1923.

The elector must have been a citizen of the United States for at least one month.

The elector must have been a resident of Pennsylvania for at least six months if native-born or former legal resident; otherwise at least one year.

The elector must have been a resident of his election district for at least two months.

All residence requirements include time in the military service. An elector does not gain nor lose legal residence by reason of absence in the military service.

The various services entitled to the military ballot are the Army or Navy of the United States or any branch or unit thereof; The Merchant Marine of the United States; those serving in the Red Cross, the Society of Friends, the Women's Auxiliary Service Pilots and the United Service Organizations attached to and serving with the armed forces of the United States.

The United Service Organizations

include the International Committee of Young Men's Christian Associations; the National Board of Young Women's Christian Associations; National Catholic Community Service; Salvation Army; National Jewish Welfare Board; National Travelers' Aid Association; and USO Camp Shows, Inc.

Bedminster Township leads the area with four vacancies. Warrington Township has three elementary vacancies.

The county superintendent, Charles H. Boehm, plans to fill about 20 vacancies with special wartime certificates issued to persons who are not eligible for regular teaching certificates. A few school districts in the county have been raising their salaries in order to prevent teachers from leaving. Early in the spring, Falls Township gave each teacher a special $200 increase. Recently, Hilltown Township boosted the one-room school teachers up to $1800, and its high school teachers to at least $2,000 to prevent any of their teachers from seeking higher salaries elsewhere. Most of the teachers leaving Bucks County schools are leaving for better positions. Dr. Ross Neagley, supervising principal of Newtown high school, who resigned last week, to accept a position near Wilmington, Delaware, will receive $4,000 to start and increases up to $6,000 in a few years, the county superintendent's office states.

The county supervisory staff is considering young graduates from high school who are willing to teach in rural schools for $1300 even though these people have not had any training or experience in teaching.

It appears very likely that the supply of new teachers will become less and less each year until four years after the war is over. Some of the positions that are vacant in Bucks County have been filled by temporary substitutes for the past two months.

that had the permanent aircraft warning stations been operating on Dec. 7, 1941, the approach of the Japanese planes would have been detected.

A contract between Rohl's firm and the War Department, signed Dec. 20, 1940, called for construction of several defense projects in the Pacific including the buildings and apparatuses for aircraft warning systems on Oahu and Kauai islands within six months time.

War Department construction charts show, said the report, "officially and conclusively that at the time the permanent aircraft warning stations were stipulated to be completed—that is within six months—not a single one was completed."

"On Dec. 1, 1941, six days before the attack on Pearl Harbor, only 37.22 percent was completed," the report said.

"Colonel Wyman . . . constantly discriminated against the field in favor of Hans Wilhelm Rohl and his associates, established a reputation for 'irregularities in the performance of contracts, failed to complete important defense projects on time and gained an unfavorable reputation as to personal habits.'"

opinion in the estate of Henry W. Comfort, late of Falls township, regarding motions to strike off exceptions filed to the first and final settlements of the accounts of the executors of the estate.

The order, handed down in the Orphans' Court is composed of three sections, as follows:

1—Final disposition of the motions is deferred pending the action and report of the auditor.

2—Leave is granted to Edgar T. Snipes, attorney, counsel for the Falls Monthly Meeting of Friends and Fallsington Library Company, to file warrants of attorney from the parties in interest on or before July 17, 1944, duly executed by the proper officers authorized by resolution of the companies, with a copy of the resolution, duly verified, to be attached to the warrants of attorney. In default the exceptions will be stricken off.

3—The exceptions and supplemental exceptions to the account and motions to strike off are submitted to the auditor, he to apply the general rule hereinbefore stated that exceptions cannot be filed to an account that has been confirmed absolutely, subject to the limitation that such confirmation is conclusive only as to matters adequately stated and properly embraced within the account, and to pass upon or dismiss the exceptions accordingly, as the case may be.

Richboro High School Has 17 To Graduate

RICHBORO, June 14—A total of 17 young folks received diplomas at the commencement exercises of Richboro high school last week. The exercises were held in Addisville Reformed Church.

The program included special music, the salutatory and valedictory orations and an address by Dr. W. Hamilton Aulenbach. The diplomas were presented by Assistant County Superintendent Paul L. Gruber.

Following the professional by Francis Harvey, the invocation was given by Rev. Alvin A. Hook, pastor of the church in which the commencement was held.

The salutatory, the subject of which was "Foundation of Peace," was given by Esther Jamison. This was followed by the rendition of "The Lord's Prayer" by the girls' chorus and an oration, "Social and ords of the Dept. of Public Assistance. All programs contributed to the decline, as follows: Old-Age Assistance, 429 persons; Aid to Dependent Children, 2,053 persons (519 cases); Blind Pensions, 100 persons; and General Assistance, 1,181 persons (750 cases). The drop in case load was the net result of closing 5,136 cases and opening 3,347.

Loss of employment due to such factors as job completion, material shortages, and reduced working hours continues to be a minor cause of public dependency. These factors accounted during May for only about 300 case openings, or 10 per cent of the total. On the other hand, 1,900 cases, or more than six times the number opened as a result of industrial lay-offs, were closed by the obtaining of new or additional employment by some member of the assistance family.

The latest available figures for Bucks County show that 955 residents were dependent on public assistance.

Manager George Dougherty, of the gasoleers, used three pitchers and the trio succeeded in holding the Baddies to a lone single, that being single by "Bill" Whyte in the final inning. Dougherty started Hal Shackleton who went out in the first inning. Grimes relieved him and pitched good ball until Schneider, formerly of the Bristol Youth League, went in. Schneider yielded the only hit after retiring

Capture of Town 20 Miles Inland Is Followed by Major German Counter-Attack — British Penetrate Into Villers-Bocage — Bitter Street Fighting in Several Centers, with Allied Forces Holding Firm.

By Kingsbury Smith
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
Supreme Headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Force, June 14—Fighting in France reached a new pitch of savage intensity today when a fresh Allied thrust which led to the capture of Caumont 20 miles inland was followed by a major German counter-attack.

Front dispatches also disclosed a British penetration into Villers-Bocage, five miles east and slightly south of Caumont.

The Nazis struck in fury at Montebourg, Carantun and Caen and bitter street fighting resulted, with American, British and Canadian troops holding firm.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's communique announcing seizure of Caumont and a penetration 20 miles inland from the channel coast disclosed a slashing Allied drive to the south that threatens to split enemy forces deployed between Caen and the rail center of St. Lo, on the Cherbourg peninsula.

The German agency DNB quoted a military spokesman as saying both the German and Allied commanders in Normandy are reinforcing their armies "for gigantic battles that are imminent."

Between 250 and 300 persons attended a sale of real estate and personal property at the home of Dr. Chester A. Helsel, near Chalfont, and good prices were received for the real estate and the personal property.

This property, before it was purchased about 21 years ago by Dr. Helsel, belonged to the late William Swartley. The dwelling and about 20 acres of land were purchased by Paul Horn, of this place, for $9,000, and another tract of about 30 acres was bought by Frank Moll, a neighbor, for $3,000. About five acres of frontage on the property were reserved by Dr. Helsel, who recently purchased another property at Ambler.

The promotion of 1st Lt. Clark J. Hawes, to the rank of captain has been announced by Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, commanding general of the U. S. Army Eighth Air Force, Captain Hawes, of Doylestown, is a photo pilot at this aerial reconnaissance station in England. The aerial pictures he takes of enemy military, maritime and industrial installations provide the information that sends the Allied bombers across the English channel with their cargoes of powerful explosives.

Men on the battlefields may face deadly bullets, but PFC Charles Petri, of Sellersville, knows an outfit, the only reconstruction company of its kind in the United States, that faces poisonous snakes daily and nightly without fear.

Pvt. Petri, who is home for his first furlough in a year, is stationed at Camp Claiborne, La. In the medical field service, Pvt. Petri took a regular course in medical training, but his studies of giving shots in the arm for diseases lasted only one day, and after that he was put to work to help "shoot" 600 men.

He has helped to catch and kill the most dangerous snake in the United States, the deadly coral snake, which has such a strong poison that it paralyzes the nerves in 15 minutes and causes death. He has killed hundreds of water moccasins, also poisonous, with his machete in the swamps of Louisiana, as well as the death-dealing rattlesnake.

Members of the club plan to attend monthly meetings in Philadelphia, the group dividing to attend meetings of their choice, such as interior decorating, cooking, etc., the programs being designed to make post-war homes more attractive and pleasant.

High and Low Planes

Washington, June 10. IT IS a fortunate thing for Governor Dewey that his nomination for the Presidency has been assured so far in advance. If he had to be fighting for the nomination up to the moment it is made, as Mr. Willkie did in 1940, one of the Roosevelt advantages of that year would be his this time as well.

THEN, with full knowledge months ahead that he would be "drafted," the President had ample time to arrange his campaign "setup," prepare his platform, select his managers and advisers, map out his speeches and strategy. On the other hand, when his opponent became the Republican candidate he had not had a minute to think of any of these things and did not, in fact, ever get properly organized.

He had put so much energy in the pre-convention struggle that he was never able to get going afterward. The result was he made an ineffective campaign.

GOVERNOR DEWEY is in much better position. He has expended neither time nor energy in seeking the nomination. Yet, it has been clear since early in April that he was going to be "drafted." Thus, when it happens (and it will be the nearest thing to a genuine draft in our political history) he will have had nearly three months to reflect upon what he wants to say, whom he wants in the managerial posts and what kind of campaign he wants to make. It is not too much time, and Mr. Dewey cannot give too much thought to these things. For, it is going to require all his skill, courage and force to meet the attack which will be made and to overcome the weight which the war and his White House occupancy give the President. Already, the lines upon which the fourth-term strategy will be laid are becoming clear. It is planned as a

Were Problem in Early Days Just As They Are At Present

EXPENSIVE ITEMS

By Jeanette Smith
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, June 10—(INS)—If it's any consolation to groaning payers of taxes and high living costs in New York City, their forefathers paid plenty, too.

An exhibit of living costs, including 200 bills paid by New Yorkers from 1790 to the present time, is on display at the Museum of the City of New York.

The commodities range from a pair of socks for a corpse to a "quint-rit" settlement of Mrs. Martha Heathcote, who once owned half of wealthy Westchester County.

In 1736, Mrs. Heathcote paid taxes of nine pounds, nine shillings (now around $41) to "His Majesty's collector," Archibald Kennedy.

The bill for the corpse's socks was 25 cents. The socks belonged to one F. Lewis, who died after a stay of four and a half days at the Western Hotel, in downtown New York, in 1847. Other bills against his estate included $6.75 for board and $2.71 for washing.

That tax headaches didn't originate in the last few years is shown by the record of a levy against the income of Augusta Selden, in 1886. In that year, Augusta paid five per cent on $4,400 and 10 per cent on $2,162—a total of $436.20.

During the period between 1826 to 72, taxes on ownership of a billiard table would have amounted to $10, with $6 for a piano (forte piano to you!), and $2 for a gold watch.

Food bills in 1770 probably were considered high, in those days. A hindquarter of lamb sold for three shillings, and a firkin (72 pounds) of butter cost $23.50.

Benjamin Palmer paid his tailor, in 1789, four shillings for a greatcoat and six shillings for breeches. For mending Palmer's wardrobe—which took four days' work—the tailor charged an additional 16 shillings.

The kind of silk shawls that John Jacob Astor sold rank high in 1801. For fourteen of them, William Laight received a bill for $444.

Funerals cost money, even in that remote era. A charge of $28.53 was made against the government for pallbearers, ribbon and crepe, in 1800, for a "funeral" in memory of George Washington. It was paid—promptly.

The picture has a brighter side, however. For instance, you could buy a gallon of Madeira in 1799 for $5; a gallon of rum in 1828 for 27 cents and a gallon of uncut whiskey in 1844 for $3.

To Raise Funds To Aid Clubmobile Operation

LANGHORNE, June 14—A bake sale is planned for Saturday, June 24th, on the lawn of the American Legion home, Bellevue avenue. The hours are from 10:30 a. m. to 2:30 p. m., and will benefit the fund being raised to care for expenses of the club-mobiles operated by the American Legion Auxiliary at the front lines of the battle zones.

Mrs. Frank Buckley will be in charge. Members are asked for donations of home-baked items or canned goods.

Bible School Rally To Be Conducted Tonight

A Daily Vacation Bible School rally will be conducted in Calvary Baptist Church this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Buses will provide transportation, leaving Bristol Terrace and Croydon at seven o'clock.

The program will include: Singing of Gospel choruses; plans for the Bible school outlined; flannel-graph lesson by Mrs. William Painter; social in basement of church following the service, with a treat for the girls and boys.

The Bible school will be conducted for two weeks, from June 19th to 30th, the school being for children aged five years and over.

3 DISTRICTS FACE TEACHER TURNOVER

Number of Unfilled Vacancies in County Reaches Total of 54

NEW TEACHERS FEW

Three Bucks County school districts face a turnover of 50% of their teachers, as the number of unfilled vacancies in Bucks county has reached a total of 54, according to reports received by the county superintendent's office. The resignations of 18 teachers were received by various districts in the county during the past week. Most of the unfilled positions are in rural areas where it is difficult to secure replacements. The supply of new graduates available for teaching in Bucks County is the lowest it has been for 20 years. Most of the beginners are receiving salaries in urban centers which exceed those paid to experienced teachers in Bucks County.

Firemen Answer Two False Alarms

Firemen last night answered an alarm struck from box 38, Farragut avenue and McKinley street. The alarm was received at about 11:30 and apparently was turned in by someone who saw what they thought was a fire at Plant 1 of Fleetwings. Upon investigation it was found that refuse was being burned in the yard of the plant.

The first alarm was sounded by the siren of Bristol Volunteer Fire Co., No. 6, and when the members of this company with apparatus arrived at the gate of the plant, admittance was refused. This company returned to its quarters.

Then when the general alarm was sounded the other companies responded and they also were refused admittance until Fire Chief Hagerman arrived. Their services were not required.

At about 8:40 last evening a false alarm was received from Jefferson avenue and Mansion street.

Yesterday two Bristol babies received war bonds as gifts, along with the Walt Disney certificates designed especially for babies, having on them pictures of all the famous Walt Disney characters.

The two babies who received the bonds in the Fifth War Loan Drive are Francis Profy, Mill street, certificate presented by his grandfather, Thomas Profy; and Frank Kohn, Wood street, from his grandfather, William Kohn.

I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice, and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it, to support its constitution; to obey its laws; to respect its flag; and to defend it against all enemies.

Hulmeville Woman Is Found Dead in Bed

HULMEVILLE, June 14—Going to the bedroom of her daughter, Mrs. Sallie Marcinek, yesterday morning, Mrs. Anthony Marek discovered that Mrs. Marcinek had died during the night.

Cause of the death of the 40-year-old woman is undetermined as yet. She had been visiting out-of-town during the week-end, returning home on Monday. Complaining that she did not feel well, Mrs. Marcinek retired early, Monday evening. It was the opinion of physicians that death had occurred shortly after midnight.

The deceased was the wife of Pvt. Joseph Marcinek, who is stationed with the U. S. Army in Italy. She is also survived by two daughters, Mrs. Narcissus Smith, Millville, N. J.; Mrs. Elwood King, Jr., of Arizona. The latter plans to return east by plane to attend the rites.

Other survivors are: her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Marek, Hulmeville; two sisters and three brothers, Mrs. Edward Chamberlain, Mrs. John Chrzanowski, Anthony Marek, Hulmeville; Pvt. Walter Marek, England; and Andrew Marek, S. 1/2, who is stationed in Philadelphia.

The mass will be said in St. Michael's Church, Torresdale, on Saturday morning, at 10 o'clock, with burial in St. Dominick's Cemetery, Holmesburg. Friends may call Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Marcinek's parents, here.

W. C. T. U. at Yardley Is Planning for Election

YARDLEY, June 14—Arrangements for the annual luncheon meeting of the W. C. T. U. at the home of Mrs. Edna Allen, on July 11, were made at a meeting of the organization at the home of Mrs. Edith Billee recently.

Mrs. Lucy A. Harper appointed Mrs. Lillian Hampton and Mrs. Gladys Helen Thompson as members of the auditing committee, and Mrs. Gladys A. Harper, Mrs. Marian Brindley and Miss Margaret Daugherty to the nominating committee.

Mrs. S. S. Frace and Mrs. Brindley conducted a discussion on the topic "How Can This Union Become a Force for Peace?"

Elect Officers For The Women of Moose

Women of the Moose elected their officers last evening, those chosen being inclusive of: Mrs. Nicholas Gagnacova, senior regent; Mrs. James Swank, junior regent; Mrs. Sene Sutterly, chaplain; Mrs. Robert Griffith, recorder; Mrs. Andrew McCafferty, treasurer.

The new senior regent succeeds Mrs. Clifford Hagerman.

The new officers will be installed on June 27th, and on that same evening appointments to offices will be made.

LATEST NEWS BULLETINS

Objects to Debate on DeGaulle at Present Time

LONDON—Prime Minister Winston Churchill told the House of Commons today that he objected to any debate at present concerning Gen. Charles DeGaulle, head of the French Committee of National Liberation, who wants that body recognized officially as the provisional government of France.

"I must advise the House most seriously that debate on this subject matter would have a very great danger," Churchill said. "This is not because we are not prepared to discuss the situation in all details if need be," the Prime Minister continued, adding that results of such a discussion might very well emphasize differences which may exist with the F. C. N. L. "Formal debate on DeGaulle," he said, "might well be a great comfort to the enemy."

German Military Installations Heavily Bombarded

LONDON—Thousands of U. S. heavy, medium and light bombers bombarded German military installations, airfields, communications and industrial targets in the Reich, France and Belgium today to follow up crippling night blows against the Nazis in both France and Germany.

Western and southern Germany were battered at night in two-way assaults from Britain and Italy highlighted by the first night attack against Munich by Mediterranean based planes. The night strike against railway objectives in Munich was the second successive blow which followed by only a few hours a heavy bomber assault by daylight yesterday.

START TODAY FOR INFORMATION FOR MILITARY BALLOTS

Air-Raid Wardens Will Make Canvass in Bristol Borough

MUST LIVE IN STATE

List the Information Which Is To Be Requested By Canvassers

Starting today, air-raid wardens, auxiliary police, and other members of the Council of Defense groups, supplemented with volunteers, will get under way on the canvass for military ballot information.

In Bristol, John E. Healey, chief air-raid warden, who has been named chief of the Bristol zone for the military ballot information solicitation, states that the work will be done by air-raid wardens, starting this evening, and will continue for two weeks or through June 28th. The house-to-house canvass will proceed under the direction of the following:

First ward, Harold F. Hunter, 117 Mulberry street; second ward, Edward C. Dougherty, 929 Radcliffe street; third ward, John Fisher, Wear Apartments, Bath and Buckley streets; fourth ward, Dennis Roche, 625 Pond street; fifth ward, Joseph McClain, Chestnut street; sixth ward, H. Wesley Spencer, 246 West Circle.

When the canvassers visit the houses they will have with them white cards on which certain information will be requested. (Elsewhere in these columns appears a copy of the card in condensed form). The canvassers will also have with them a pink card which they will leave with the individual furnishing the information, so that if at any time in the future there is a change in the military address this information can be given on the pink card and forwarded to the Bucks County Board of Election in Doylestown.

The military ballot information is required in order to procure the correct address of those members of the armed forces to whom ballots should be sent and, at the same time, to get the information required to permit those persons to vote who have not previously registered. Provision was made for the canvass through an act of the Legislature passed at a special session this Spring.

Interest in the invasion of Europe has all but blinded some persons to operations in other theaters of war. As an antidote to great hopes for a rapid conclusion of the war against Germany, it is only necessary to look to China, where again a strong Japanese army is fighting for Changsha, key of Hunan Province. Before this appears in print Changsha may have fallen.

This is the third time in six years that the Japs have tried to take the city. This time they may be successful—and continue into the Rice Bowl upon which the Chinese depend for much of their food. Here is a situation to cause the Allies grave concern.

If actual front conditions are considered, things are much better in India and Burma. The Japs at Kohima are on the run, and Allied troops have made advances at Imphal. Yet even here hopes of annihilating a large part of the enemy forces are dwindling.

The monsoon is hampering Allied operations, and although the Myitkyina airfield fell to General Stilwell weeks ago, the Nipponese holding the city show unexpected resistance.

There is one factor which undoubtedly will encourage the Chinese to keep on fighting no matter what the odds. After seven years of the unequal struggle in China things for the moment look bad, but surely the Chinese can glimpse deliverance over the horizon.

The first phase of Allied invasion of France has been accomplished. This first phase was described by General Eisenhower's headquarters as "the securing of a foothold and the defeating of local German reserves."

The Allied Armies of Liberation may momentarily end the second phase, the task of defeating German "tactical reserves." Then will follow the third phase, described in the headquarters statement as the job of crushing "strategic reserves"—massing for a desperate and ferocious counter-offensive.

It sounds simple, almost prosaic, in the military language of that brief comment from General Eisenhower's headquarters. But the grim meaning was made somewhat clearer when Secretary of War Stimson said:

"We must look for the full fury of savage counter-attacks in force at any early moment."

"It would be folly to believe that the period of counter-attack will be short. Conditions will be changing from day to day, and it will be to our own good to avoid excesses of optimism or pessimism."

Earnest study of Secretary Stimson's words is commended both to the impatient optimists who are looking for Germany "to crack any day, now," and to the hand-wringing pessimists of the "Isn't it awful?" school.

If citizens hollering about taxes, tried relaxing to get their money's worth, why would do the work?

dual affair. On one side there will be the President, supposedly living on a plane high above politics and a candidate only because of his sense of duty to the country and the world. The effort will be to justify his attempt to stay in the White House by insisting upon his indispensability not only for winning the war but also for making the peace.

AND Mr. Roosevelt, himself, will follow the line of his last campaign. With Olympian detachment, he will avoid all discussion of politics but in his role of Commander in Chief, he is expected to take a few "trips of inspection" as he did before and, perhaps, make a dramatic visit to England if the invasion is going well. And all through, he will ignore his opponent—replying to no challenge and never mentioning Mr. Dewey's name. That was what he did to Mr. Wilkie in 1940. He treated him with complete contempt, assigned his subordinates to answer his charges and personally pretended he did not know he was living. Mr. Wilkie could not prevent him from getting away with that and Mr. Roosevelt greatly enjoyed doing it.

THERE isn't the slightest doubt that he will try to repeat that act with Governor Dewey, but there is a good deal of doubt that it will go over as well. The certain thing, however, is that he will avoid and evade all discussion of domestic issues, pose as having neither time nor inclination to consider politics and try to concentrate public attention on the war and peace problems. And, while the President holds to this noble and aloof attitude, the real managers of the fourth-term campaign, chief of whom is the CIO, will operate on very different lines. The objectives of the CIO management, ably supported by the left-wing press and publicists, are two: (1) to build Mr. Roosevelt up; (2) to tear Mr. Dewey down. So far as the first is concerned, the effort will be to credit the President with single-handedly winning the war; to laud his pre-war record and, by endowing him with all virtue and wisdom, impress the people with the notion that it would be calamitous to elect anyone else President. The extraordinary publicity facilities of the CIO-Administration combination are well attested for this job.

CONCERNING the business of tearing Governor Dewey down, the fourth-term journalists are hard at it now. One set of these savagely attacks him as insincere and untrustworthy. They alleged that he has no convictions and try to stir class and racial feeling against him. The effort of the other set is to belittle Governor Dewey personally—for example, by referring to him as "Little Tom" or "the little Governor" or "the Dream Boy" or by smart-aleck cracks about his having to sit on two telephone books to see over a table. This is extremely cheap stuff, but it is illuminating.

FOR ONE thing, it is indicative of the caliber of the men upon whom Mr. Roosevelt depends for political support. For another, it shows that very little will be left undone by the practical fellows who have a vital personal stake in keeping Mr. Roosevelt in. In the third place, it presents a sharp contrast to Mr. Roosevelt's personal pose of being far removed from politics and not knowing the name of the man running against him. In brief, while the President takes his position on the highest plane, his "close friends" are playing politics from the lowest. Under the circumstances, it is advantageous to Governor Dewey to have this advance notice of his nomination and thus be able to see through this dual strategy of the fourth-termers. It may be that he will be able to find an effective answer to both the high and the low plane activities. It might not be too hard to find. For the activities on both planes are essentially phony.

their home last evening, welcoming members and friends of the congregation of Neshaminy Methodist Church. During the evening, William Weber, of Mont Clare, Pa., showed natural color slides on the lawn of the residence.

There were 24 members of the Ladies' Auxiliary who met in William Penn Fire Co. station on Monday evening, with Miss Margaret Perry presiding. Hostesses were Mrs. Elwood King, Sr., and Mrs. Frank Orliowski. Games were followed by refreshments. Members plan to conduct sessions during July and August this year. It was announced that those entitled to participate in the benefits of the outing fund take suggestions to the July session. All members of this group are asked to have payments up to date by the next meeting in order to participate in the outing. The hostesses named for July are Mrs. James Tracy and Mrs. Charles Thorpe, Sr.

Miss Verna Brunner had her tonsils removed on Friday at the Women's Homeopathic Hospital, Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gross and family, of Philadelphia, are occupying their summer home on Water street.

A recent visit was paid by Miss Jean Phipps to Miss Marie Dilworth, of Media.

A week-end visitor of Mrs. Harry P. Gill was her ex-sister-in-law, Miss Helen E. Gill, Philadelphia, spent Sunday with her mother, here. Recent visits were paid by Mrs. Gill and Miss Isabel Gill to Mrs. John Abrams and Mrs. Annie Soby, Edgely.

ty than adult cases. He stated that from his observation and analysis it is his opinion that most juvenile cases are the result of parental delinquency—so many mothers being employed. The breaking up of family life through separation and divorce also adds to the number of cases, he stated; and many bad situations are induced by hectic industrial conditions at present. A number of cases were cited by the speaker.

The Rev. Arthur F. Gibson, of Eddington, introduced as his guest at the dinner meeting, the Rev. N. Herbert Caley, Langhorne, dean of the Episcopal Convocation of Germantown.

The final session for the directors for the year was also held.

Canvassers will call at every home, and if there is anyone living there who is in the armed services or other branches of war activity as listed below, the necessary answers to the questions on the cards as shown in the accompanying illustration, should be given by some member of the family.

No other information will be asked for and none should be given. The canvasser will have his credentials which he will display to the person giving the information.

There will be no other way in which an absentee voter in the armed forces may obtain a ballot.

*The qualifications for voting by military ballot are:

The elector must have been born on or before November 8, 1923.

The elector must have been a citizen of the United States for at least one month.

The elector must have been a resident of Pennsylvania for at least six months if native-born or former legal resident; otherwise at least one year.

The elector must have been a resident of his election district for at least two months.

All residence requirements include time in the military service. An elector does not gain nor lose legal residence by reason of absence in the military service.

The various services entitled to the military ballot are the Army or Navy of the United States or any branch or unit thereof; The Merchant Marine of the United States; those serving in the Red Cross, the Society of Friends, the Women's Auxiliary Service Pilots and the United Service Organizations attached to and serving with the armed forces of the United States.

The United Service Organizations

include the International Committee of Young Men's Christian Associations; the National Board of Young Women's Christian Associations; National Catholic Community Service; Salvation Army; National Jewish Welfare Board; National Travelers' Aid Association, and USO Camp Shows, Inc.

Bedminster Township leads the area with four vacancies. Warrington Township has three elementary vacancies.

The county superintendent, Charles H. Boehm, plans to fill about 20 vacancies with special wartime certificates issued to persons who are not eligible for regular teaching certificates. A few school districts in the county have been raising their salaries in order to prevent teachers from leaving. Early in the spring, Falls Township gave each teacher a special $200 increase. Recently, Hilltown Township boosted the one-room school teachers up to $1800, and its high school teachers to at least $2000 to prevent any of their teachers from seeking higher salaries elsewhere. Most of the teachers leaving Bucks County schools are leaving for better positions. Dr. Rosa Neagley, supervising principal of Newtown high school, who resigned last week, to accept a position near Wilmington, Delaware, will receive $4,000 to start and increases up to $6,000 in a few years, the county superintendent's office states.

The county supervisory staff is considering young graduates from high school who are willing to teach in rural schools for $1300 even though these people have not had any training or experience in teaching.

It appears very likely that the supply of new teachers will become less and less each year until four years after the war is over. Some of the positions that are vacant in Bucks County have been filled by temporary substitutes for the past two months.

... that had the permanent aircraft warning stations been operating on Dec. 7, 1941, the approach of the Japanese planes would have been detected."

A contract between Rohl's firm and the War Department, signed Dec. 20, 1940, called for construction of several defense projects in the Pacific, including the buildings and appurtenances for aircraft warning systems on Oahu and Kauai islands within six months' time.

War Department construction charts show, said the report, "officially and conclusively that at the time the permanent aircraft warning stations were stipulated to be completed—that is within six months—not a single one was completed."

"On Dec. 1, 1941, six days before the attack on Pearl Harbor, only 37.22 percent was completed," the report said.

"Colonel Wyman ... constantly discriminated against the firm in favor of Hans Wilhelm Rohl and his associates, established a reputation for irregularities in the performance of contracts, failed to complete important defense projects on time and gained an unfavorable reputation as to personal habits."

opinion in the estate of Henry W. Comfort, late of Falls township, regarding motions to strike off exceptions filed to the first and final settlements of the accounts of the executors of the estate.

The order, handed down in the Orphans' Court is composed of three sections, as follows:

1—Final disposition of the motions is deferred pending the action and report of the auditor.

2—Leave is granted to Edgar T. Shipps, attorney, counsel for the Falls Monthly Meeting of Friends and Palsington Library Company, to file warrants of attorney from the parties in interest on or before July 17, 1944, duly executed by the proper officers authorized by resolution of the companies, with a copy of the resolution, duly verified, to be attached to the warrants of attorney. In default the exceptions will be stricken off.

3—The exceptions and supplemental exceptions to the account and motions to strike off are submitted to the auditor, he to apply the general rule hereinbefore stated that exceptions cannot be filed to an account that has been confirmed absolutely, subject to the limitation that such confirmation is conclusive only as to matters adequately stated and properly embraced within the account, and to pass upon or dismiss the exceptions accordingly, as the case may be.

Richboro High School Has 17 To Graduate

RICHBORO, June 14—A total of 17 young folks received diplomas at the commencement exercises of Richboro high school last week. The exercises were held in Addisville Reformed Church.

The program included special music, the salutatory and valedictory orations and an address by Dr. W. Hamilton Aulenbach. The diplomas were presented by Assistant County Superintendent Paul L. Gruber.

Following the professional by Frank Harvey, the invocation was given by Rev. Alvin A. Hook, pastor of the church in which the commencement was held.

The salutatory, the subject of which was "Foundation of Peace," was given by Esther Jamison. This was followed by the rendition of "The Lord's Prayer" by the girls' chorus and an oration, "Social and Economic Problems of the Post-War World," by Alice Shaefer.

Harry Fromuth gave the mantle oration and the acceptance speech was by Harry Walker.

As valedictorian of the class, Jessie Lightfoot gave an oration, "Tomorrow's Task," following which the girls' chorus sang another number, "The Stout Hearted Men." The address by Dr. Aulenbach and the presentation of di-

VOLTZ NINE WINS
FOURTH STRAIGHT
GAME IN LEAGUE

Manager Dougherty Uses
Three Pitchers To Gain Victory

FINAL SCORE IS 6 TO 1

Ashby Starts for Badenhausen and Lasts
Until Fourth

EDGELEY, June 14—The Voltz-Texaco team won its fourth straight game in the Bristol Suburban League last evening, beating Badenhausen, 6-1, on the Edgely diamond.

Manager George Dougherty, of the gasoliers, used three pitchers and the trio succeeded in holding the Baddies to a lone bingle, that being single by "Bill" Whyte in the final inning. Dougherty started Hal Shackleton who went out in the first inning. Grimes relieved him and pitched good ball until Schneider, formerly of the Bristol youth League, went in. Schneider yielded the only hit after retiring

six batters in a row and having three strikeouts to his credit.

Turner Ashby was the first hurler for Badenhausen and he lasted until the fourth when Vic Rockhill socked a home run. Paul Dean replaced Ashby and finished, being nicked for three hits during his tenure of the mound.

The winners had a total of 11
hits and were led by Alex Dewsnap and Bill Leigh who had three out of four each.

DIAMOND SNAPS
OUT OF LOSING STREAK

The Diamond team snapped out of its losing streak last night to beat the Alcoa team, 6-3, on the Burlington High School field. The defeat shoved the aluminum workers into the cellar.

Three runs in the sixth inning gave the Mill street aggregation the triumph. The trio of markers were the result of singles by Johnson, Keyes, and Samsel plus a twobagger from the bat of Keegan. It was Keegan's second double of the game his first also accounting for a pair of runs.

But it wasn't only his bat that aided the Diamond team to victory for Keegan's arm was just as handy
as the red-headed portside held the Jersey team to eight hits which he kept widely scattered. He struck out five batters, four in rotation
in the third and fourth innings.

Fred Schele was Keegan's nem-esis as he crashed out a double and two singles in three official trips to the plate.

ROHM & HAAS TO PLAY FLEETWINGS

The Rohm and Haas and Fleet-wings teams will clash again this evening on the Maple Beach diamond in a Trenton Industrial League contest. The last times the two clubs met resulted in a 4-4 deadlock.

Rohm and Haas is deep in the cellar of the Trenton loop, having lost 13 straight games. The chemical mixers' average stands at two wins and 14 losses. Fleetwings is in third place in the loop standing,
having won seven and lost 6.

Opposing hurlers for tonight's fracas will most likely be Jesse Crosdale for Rohm and Haas and Lonnie Heisler for Fleetwings.

Game will begin at 6:15 o'clock
sharp.

ARMSTRONG-DAVIS
BOUT SET FOR 15TH

By Lawton Carver
(I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, June 14—(INS)—
Al (Bummy) Davis and Henry Armstrong have travelled long and winding trails over pugilism's ups
and downs to meet finally on June 15th at Madison Square Garden.
Neither is going anywhere now.
Armstrong has been to the top and is clinging to the ragged outer edges of things by the time. Davis never did make the grade, but has managed to climb back into some prominence after each reverse.

Davis probably saw Armstrong for the first time on the night of October 23, 1939, when he, fresh out of the amateur ranks, fought the four-round curtain raiser in his Garden debut, starting a show that would end with Armstrong knocking out Petey Sarron for the world
featherweight championship.

Both were featherweights on that occasion, but the intervening years have blown up into welters for a 10-round clash with each other.
Where have they been since that night five years ago?

Davis built himself up with a left hook to be regarded for a time as a potential champion, then one night against Fritz Zivic went completely berserk. He smashed Zivic low several times deliberately, kicked the referee, and got himself barred for what was to be a life term. Soon after he entered the Army, he was given a return match with Zivic and was pounded out of shape in one of the most merciless exhibitions since fighters threw away brass knucks. Zivic got even that night.

Davis finally was discharged from the Army and has punched
his way back into favor.

As Armstrong walked out of the Garden ring that night after punching Sarron full of holes, he was on his way to wearing three boxing crowns at one time.

He added Lou Ambers' lightweight title and Barney Ross' welter title to his list, fought Ceferino Garcia for the middleweight title, ran up a record-breaking string of straight knockouts, and rode the pugilistic world high, wide and handsome under the tutelage of the late Eddie (Beef Stew) Mead.

Then Armstrong's titles slipped away. In his last defensive stand Fritz Zivic whacked him around and cut him up, and the end was nearing. His eyes were bad and had to be operated upon. He retired, then made a comeback and retired again. He's on another of his several comebacks now, old and rusty and almost whipped down by the years and the men he has met.
Davis is younger and except for that terrible lacing which that same Zivic gave him never was man-handled too much. He still can punch. Armstrong is about out of gas.

And so they clash head-on finally as they come to the cross-roads of trails going in the same general direction—nowhere.

Davis is fighting because he is still young enough and hits hard enough to make money at the business. Armstrong is fighting because there isn't anything left to him. His fortune has been squandered long since, and only his durability enables him to continue climbing into rings all up and down the land and carry on in a business which he once dominated so completely that there was scarcely even a runner-up to him.

It may be a good, a great or a poor fight, but, in any case, it is going to be a vitally important one to the principals.

SPORTSMEN MEET
IN MONTHLY SESSION

Thirty-four members of the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association were on hand last evening at the Odd Fellows' Hall when the Association met in monthly session for the transaction of club

business.

Chairman Howard Asay was in charge of the meeting at which the Fish Committee was instructed to report on possible pollution of several streams in lower Bucks County.

J. Leon Welis, Langhorne, chairman of the Fish Committee of the Bucks County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs, spoke briefly to members. He declared that streams in this section were heavily fished and consequently should receive propo-riate heavy stockings of fish.

An open discussion on the possibilities of holding a club outing
this year was held. No definite action was taken, however.

Announcement was made that at the next meeting of the Association, Tuesday, July 11, movies will be shown and refreshments served.

HIS METER READING ACCURACY
HELPS GUIDE "FLYING FORTS"

Home after 51 bombing missions

Here's First Lieutenant George W. Freas, Flying Fortress Navigator, before his chest grew colorful with service ribbons.

George, a former student at Penn Charter and Norristown High School, served as a meter reader with P.E.'s Norristown office for two years before taking to the air to stop the Nazis.

He was graduated from the Army Air Force Aviation School at Monroe, La., as a Second Lieutenant. After further training in Texas, California, Wyoming, and Kansas he left for North Africa.
There he served in the Strategic Air Force under General Doolittle.
Later his outfit moved into Italy.

Having completed 51 missions over enemy targets, George is now back in the States, stationed at a rest camp in Atlantic City.
